

Ministry of Education and UNICEF Eritrea

Companion CD for Gender Training Manual for Teachers

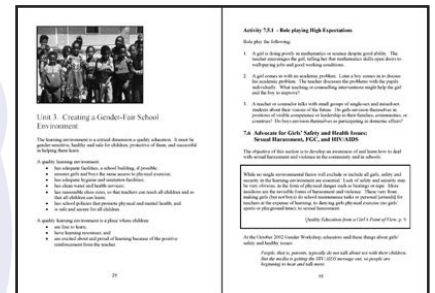

In 2002 UNICEF/Eritrea supported the revision of the gender training manual for the Asmara Teacher Training Institute (ATTI). The manual prepared seven years earlier was aimed at teacher trainers. UNICEF and the ATTI decided to prepare the new manual for teachers and a companion CD-ROM for teacher trainers. Seward produced a CD-ROM with links to information not available to the ATTI since it does not have internet access. Links include information on integrating gender into the curriculum, the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, and other learning resources.

Information links on the CD-ROM support chapters of the training manual,

The Gender-Fair Teacher: Moving Towards Equity in the Eritrean Elementary School Classroom.

The links provide additional information on:

- Gender and Education in Eritrea
- Creating a Gender-Fair School Environment
- Addressing Gender Issues in the Curriculum
- Gender Issues in Teaching and Learning
- Qualities of the Gender-Responsive Teacher
- Mobilizing the Community to Support Girls' Education

Unit 3 of the gender training manual, "Creating a Gender-Fair School Environment."

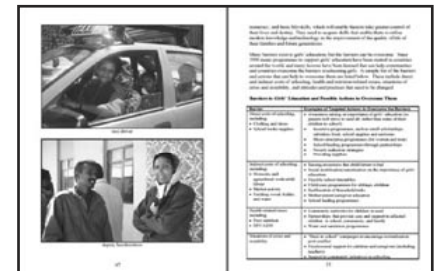

Image 2 shows pictures of Eritrean women in non-traditional work roles: a taxi driver and an assistant head teacher.